Congratulations to each of you. I look forward to collaborating with you on the world premier of this South African's playwright work. I know that you will not only bring a great deal energy and talent to this production but also a keen sense of curiosity and a commitment to telling this story with honesty and passion.

Two things.

First of all, please confirm that you are accepting the role by emailing me at millerrf@appstate.edu immediately.

And second, please contact Jennifer Ackland at acklandja@appstate.edu today to set up an appointment for costume fittings. We MUST have these fittings completed by next Wednesday, November 30th.

Enjoy your Thanksgiving Break and I will be back in touch with you by email before the end of the semester.

Ray Miller, Director
